3rd December 2014 – Taiwan's leading independent airline, EVA Air, has ranked seventh in the 'World's Top 10 Airlines for 2015' by AirlineRatings.com, identifying it as a carrier of choice for business and leisure travellers from the UK. The airline has also been honoured with a coveted Excellence Award by the website's editors, rating it as the 'Best Long-Haul Airline' among carriers within the Asia/Pacific region.

EVA Air was voted the world's seventh best airline following a rigorous four month analysis by the website's editors who are recognised worldwide for their expertise in the airline industry. The airline was commended for demonstrating excellence not only with its safety record and standards but also for its in-flight product, passenger options, value for money, financial results, management and customer service, all of which are driven by its innovation.

Another aspect that played a vital role in determining AirlineRatings.com's awards of excellence was passenger feedback. EVA Air passengers were able to offer their thoughts on the airline's service via the site's 10-star scale, rating their experience using significant numbers on positive or negative scales.

Geoffrey Thomas, Editor-in-Chief of AirlineRatings.com, said that, "EVA Air is the quiet achiever and trendsetter and was one of the first airlines to introduce Premium Economy class. From its inception in the late 1980s, the airline has focused on delivering passengers a host of travel options. This has resulted in EVA dominating the region and making it a trendsetter."

Previously ranked among one of the world's 10 safest airlines in 2013, EVA Air has maintained its level of service within the industry and is delighted to receive these additional accolades from a core group of editors at AirlineRatings.com. The site enhances the quality of information available to the travelling public and has attracted more than 3 million visitors from 232 countries resulting in an estimated 12 million page views. The Excellence Awards are the pinnacle of the website's efforts with the site's safety rating system also endorsed by the International Civil Aviation Organization.

EVA Air Chairman, K.W. Chang said, "Gaining recognition from airline industry experts who are as knowledgeable and respected as the AirlineRatings.com team is very gratifying. These honours suggest that our efforts to become the world's best airline are headed in the right direction."
