

ADRIÁN HOTELES RECEIVES 'HALL OF FAME' AWARD FOR ITS FIVE CONSECUTIVE YEARS OF 'EXCELLENCE'

TripAdvisor's users rate the family-run hotel group for its great hospitality

28th May 2015 – Family-run hotel group Adrián Hoteles, with three properties in Tenerife's Costa Adeje, has been awarded TripAdvisor's 'Hall of Fame' for its five consecutive years of delivering great standards of hospitality to guests. This special accolade is only awarded to businesses that receive the website's 'Certificate of Excellence' – given to establishments that consistently achieve positive reviews – for five years in a row.

Rafael Adrián, owner of Adrián Hoteles, comments on the award: "We are thrilled at being continually recognised for our great hospitality, which we take much pride in. As the proprietor of the group, I feel very proud of the entire team for constantly delivering a personal and friendly service to our guests – one of our two core principles together with sustainability. There is no greater reward than being recognised by your own customers."

TripAdvisor's 'Certificate of Excellence' awards are given annually to businesses that receive positive reviews from ratings made by millions of travellers around the world. When an establishment receives this award for five consecutive years, it is given the 'Hall of Fame' accolade.

Adrián Hoteles has three luxury properties in the sunny resort of Costa Adeje, in the south of Tenerife: 5* Hotel Jardines de Nivaria, 5* Roca Nivaria Gran Hotel and 4* adult-only Hotel Colón Guanahani. Since the opening of the first hotel back in 1990, the wellbeing of customers has always been a top priority for the group and is just one of the reasons why the three hotels attract a high percentage of repeat loyal guests every year.

The 'Hall of Fame' accolade adds to the many awards that Adrián Hoteles has received recently including the 'Travelife Gold' certificate, recognising the group's commitment to sustainable tourism.
